SLEEPING GIRL LEAPS TO DEATH.

Terrified by a frightful dream, Miss Beulah Connell sprang from her bed in the Memorial Hospital, Richmond, last night, and leaped from a second-story window to the ground below.

Miss Connell was admitted to the hospital last week suffering from a mild attack of typhoid fever. As she was getting along nicely and in no danger of becoming delirious, no special nurse was considered necessary to watch her. Shortly before the accident the nurse in charge of the ward talked with Miss Connell. At that time the patient appeared bright and cheerful. A few minutes thereafter she went to sleep, and in that sleep came the dreadful dream.

The girl was found lying upon the ground on the east side of the building. A hurried examination was made, and she was immediately taken to the operating-room, where she was more thoroughly examined. Here it was found that the left leg was broken above the knee and that she was suffering from other injuries. She died from the shock shortly after midnight.

After being found in the alley outside the window from which she had leaped Miss Connell was conscious. She conversed with the nurse who ran to her assistance and complained that she felt badly, but maintained that she was not hurt. She never told the substance of her dream.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills will promptly relieve all Kidney and Bladder disorders. Sold and recommended by W. F. Creighton & Co.

BY BALLOON TO THE POLE.

Walter Wellman, who planned recently about going to the North Pole in a dirigible balloon, said last night that he was planning to make the attempt next year. He said his airship, the America, built for polar atmospheric conditions, could easily travel from New York to Buffalo, Detroit, or even Chicago. It is, Mr. Wellman said, the second largest airship ever built, its 260,000 cubic feet being exceeded only by Zeppelin.

"But in fuel-conveying capacity and radius of action the America exceeds the Zeppelin," continued Mr. Wellman, "as in the latter ship a larger proportion of the lifting force is absorded in raising the machine itself. The total lifting power of my ship is 19,500 pounds. In this country where guide roping is impracticable and greater variations of temperature in a given short period must be reckoned with, I see no reason why the America should not remain 50 to 60 hours in the air, and make a voyage of 1,000 miles, carrying five tons of crew, fuel, etc., provided the wind conditions were not too unfavorable."

Mr. Wellman said he expected to bring the America to this country in the fall. It is now being put in order in Paris by his chief engineer.

What is Best for Indigestion?

Mr. A. Robinson, of Drumquin, Ontario, has been troubled for years with indigestion, and recommends Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets as "the best medicine ever used." If troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They are certain to prove beneficial. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

AGED COUPLE'S ROMANCE.

The marriage in Kingston, N. Y., Monday night of George Faulkner, 62 years old, and Mrs. Sarah E. Seymour, 61 years old, both of Schuyler, Neb., it was learned yesterday, was the culmination of a romance begun in Ulster county more than 40 years ago. Faulkner was a native of Kingston and Mrs. Seymour was a native of Saugerties, 12 miles from there. They became engaged in their youth, but a lovers' quarrel separated them, and each married someone else.

The wife of Mr. Faulkner and the husband of Mrs. Seymour both died within three years, and Mr. Faulkner and Mrs. Seymour each moved to a different part of the country. Recently each moved to Schuyler, Neb., and last week both came east, by different routes. They met on the Hudson river steamer Hendrik Hudson as she was landing at Kingston Point on Monday, and, after a brief talk at Kingston Point Park, they procured a marriage license from City Clerk Cummings and were married by the Rev. Wilbur E. Stowe.

There are many imitations of DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve but just one original. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

A Faithful Friend.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and DiarrhoeaRemedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. I have been a commercial traveler for eighteen years, and never start out on a trip without this, my faithful friend," says H. S. Nichols of Oakland, Ind. Ter. When a man has used a remedy for thirty-five years he know its value and is competent to speak of it. For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

THUKSDAY EVENING. AUG. 6, 1908.

THE death of Senator Allison, of Iowa, makes it almost certain that Governor Cummins will succeed him in the United States Senate. It was to prevent Cummins from getting into the Senate that the railroads and the reactionaries of Iowa induced Senator Dolliver to refuse the vice presidential nomination. Later they prevented the nomination of Cummins as Taft's running mate by their violent protests, and their declarations that the recognition of Cummins by the national convention would cause great discord among the republicans of Iowa. Cummins was recently a candidate for the Senate against Allison but was beaten in the primaries. It was conceded at the time that no man than Allison could have won in an open contest before the people against the popular governor. Nevertheless the reactionaries construed Allison's victory to be one for themselves, and they openly proclaimed that Cummins had lost his grip upon the voters of the state, and would be no longer a political factor. This was their general belief when the national convention met. Immediately after the national convention had acted the state convention of Iowa was held at Waterloo. The delegates had all been chosen in primaries, and it was figured that a great majority of them would be anti-Cummins. It proved, however, when the county caucuses were held and the convention organized, to be a Cummins convention by a majority of almost two to one. Cummins and his friends dominated absolutely, and the general proceedings showed Cummins to be stronger and in more complete control of the state organization that he had ever been. There is no reason to doubt that he will be elected senator, whether a special primary is called to determine the matter or it is left to the legislature.

COMPARATIVELY silent when Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, of Alabama, sounded his Japanese war alarms in the house last session, the Japanese press has yielded to the temptation to reply to his speech at the Denver convention. According to advices to the State Department, the Japanese journalists have done it in an artistic fashion. For instance, the Japan Chronicle says that Capt. Hobson was once less hostile to the Japanese, and refers to his visit to Kobe, where he addressed the Young Men's Christian Association, as the possible turning point. The paper asks:

What did they do to Mr. Hobson that made him so censorious of Japan, so determined to believe that Japan had her eye on the United States and some fine day would be found in possession of Washington? Can it be possible that the members of the Y. M. C. A. fell asleep when Mr. Hobson lectured them on the duty of loving one's enemies? We are afraid to speculate further on what may have occurred, but it is certainly very curious that Mr. Hobson's strong antipathy to Japan dates from about the period he was entertained by Japanese Christians in Kobe.

THERE is something very pathetic in the dispatches from Dubuque, Iowa, which tell of the death of Senator Allison. The arrangements for the funeral to be held on Saturday next were completed yesterday at a meeting of his friends. There is not a relative to consult, not a single wish to consider outside of the desires of the friends in Dubuque and Washington and throughout Iowa. Alone—not survived by a blood relative and living solely for the public service which he might perform—Senator Allison's last few days were a sad climax of a lonely man's life. The Allison home today is in charge of the few intimate friends of Senator Allison. The funeral ceremonies will be simple. Brief services will be held at the residence of the dead senator. Rev. J. T. Bergen, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church, of which Senator Allison was a member, will officiate.

A STRIKE has been started in all the mills of the International Paper Company, which employ approximately 1,000 expert paper machine operators and 5,500 other employes, not taking into consideration wood operatives. A reduction in wages was the cause of the strike. This is not very encouraging to the republican leaders who are trying to cajole voters by their promises of "renewed prosperity."

THE democratic congressional convention of the Ninth district, held yesterday, nominated J. C. Byars for Congress by acclamation, to oppose the republican candidate, C. B. Slemp. The democrats of the Ninth having come to their senses again should now exert every effort in securing the election of their nominee. The Ninth was once a democratic stronghold.

COL. HENRY WATTERSON in an interview says: "I am looking for the same ground swell this year for Bryan and Kern than we had in 1892 for Cleveland and Stevenson. Things go in seasons and the republican party is due for a beating. It certainly deserves to be beaten and I believe it will be. So mote it be; amen!

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Aug. 6.

Although rumors of the early resignation of Attorney General Bonaparte are again repeated in Washington persistently, little confidence is placed in them by those in touch with governmental affairs. President Roosevelt himself declared just before he left Washington that the Maryland lawyer would remain in the Cabinet until March 4. It is pointed out that there has been no break between the president and Bonaparte, and there is no political exigency that would demand the attorney general's retirement. In fact, it is believed the president would use all his influence to keep Bonaparte in his present position, should the latter seek, on account of business opportunities, to sever his connection with the government. The report of the resignation of Alfred W. Cooley, of New York, as assistant attorney general, was confirmed at the Department of Justice today. The reason for his wish to retire is ill health. It is stated that it will be some time before his successor is appointed and in the meantime the resignation will not be accepted. Cooley left last night for New Mexico.

The next Senator from Iowa will probably be named at Oyster Bay, and with the naming, one of the two most dangerous situations worrying republican leaders, it is said, will be righted. The influence of the president is believed to be strong enough to straighten out the Iowa tangle. Since he is a friend of Governor Cummins, the wise ones say there is no doubt that Cummins will be Allison's successor. Iowa and Ohio have been the two states that have caused the deepest wrinkles across Chairman Hitchcock's brow. Now there is a chance that what might have been open ruction in Iowa may become political tranquility. The death of Senator Allison has changed conditions, and is hoped to be reflected in the presidential election.

President Davilla, of Honduras, has refused to rescind his order cancelling the exequatur of the foreign consuls at Ceiba, who were charged by him with endeavoring to bring about the capitulation of that town to the revolutionists, according to information conveyed to the State Department today by Honduran Minister Ugarte. The State Department, before taking any further action, will await the detailed mail report from United States Consul Drew Linard.

Under bids opened at the Navy Department today Thomas Butler & Co., of Boston, Mass., will be sold the schooship St. Marys for $5,052.73 and to Samuel B. Wilson, of Philadelphia, will be sold the Shearwater for $1,526. Thomas H. Gregory, of Perth Amboy, N. J., bid $4,057 for the St. Marys, but there was no competition for the Shearwater.

THE LAWYERS.

The second day's session of the State Bar Association was held yesterday at Hot Springs.

The address yesterday of former Senator William Lindsay, of Kentucky, on "The Man and the Corporation" evoked considerable enthusiasm. Mr. Lindsay pointed out that it was the duty of the states to remedy what he regarded as the present day evil of corporate supremacy over the individual. The states, he maintained, created the corporation, and it was their duty to control their creatures. This course, he said, would relieve the federal government from interference, which interference he regarded as not only of doubtful constitutionality, but of doubtful expediency.

The association, at the conclusion of the address of Mr. Lindsay, indulged in a spirited discussion of the proposition to abolish the old common law system of pleading in the state for a system based on the English practice act. Judge Taft gave evidence of enjoying the sharp discussion, which was terminated by referring the matter to a committee for consideration until the next annual meeting of the association.

As stated yesterday, Capt. Micajah Woods, of Charlottesville, was elected president. Gardner L. Boothe, of this city, was elected vice president for the Piedmont section.

Maj. Holmes Conrad, of Winchester, read a historical paper last night on "the old county court; its place in history."

Last night the young members of the association gave the annual german, with forty couples dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Taft attended, and Mrs. Taft and Allen Jones, of Newport News, led the opening figure.

Mr. Taft addressed the meeting this morning on "Delays in Litigation," and the session will close tonight with the annual banquet.

Considerable criticism is being directed toward Wyndham R. Meredith for having given out an interview in which in addition to declaring himself for Taft, he made the statement that a majority of the thinking men of the state shared his views. The lawyers here deny he voiced their sentiments, and blame him because they think the general public will believe he put the association on record for the republican candidate, when as a matter of fact they are for Bryan.

Democratic members of the association today held a little indignation meeting, and protested against the introduction of politics into the affairs of the association.

VIRGINIA FARMERS.

The feature of the second day's session of the State Farmers' Institute at Richmond yesterday was the address by Henry Oldys, of the Department of Agriculture, who spoke as the representative of the department and of the National Association of Audubon Societies. He urged the support of the movement now on foot in this state to establish a Virginia Audubon society. He also urged the enactment of proper game laws and the licensing of hunters.

Several other addresses were made and several papers of a technical nature were read. Judge William Hodges Mann, candidate for governor, made an address in the afternoon.

Cardinal Gibbons is slightly improved today after his serious attack of intestinal trouble yesterday at Castle Gandolfo, Rome. He is still confined to his bed but his fever has abated and he hopes to be out again by the end of the week. The doctors attribute the cardinal's ailment to over exertion. J. J. McCrane, of Brooklyn, who accompanied the two hundred pilgrims to Rome, today presented the pope with a building in New York valued at $50,000. The building is to be given to the Italian Selesian Fathers for the establishment of a college. When the pope learned of the cardinal's illness he sent a special messenger to the cardinal's temporary home, expressing his sympathy and hope for a speedy recovery.

Virginia News.

While driving yesterday afternoon to his home, near Bealeton, Mr. John Spindle was thrown from his buggy and was instantly killed.

Gen. Eppa Hunton, who has been quite ill in Warrenton, is now much better and hope is entertained that he will be well and about again.

Robinson Brothers who have been doing a grocery business in Warrenton closed their store Monday last and have left that place.

Marion W. Galleher died at the home of his son, Henry Galleher, near Leesburg, yesterday, aged 68 years. He was a prominent farmer and served throughout the civil war in the Seventeenth Virginia Regiment.

Former Congressman William A. Young last night announced his withdrawal from the race for the democratic nomination at the primary of August 25. It is believed that his large following in Norfolk city will go to Congressman Maynard, thus assuring his nomination.

MRS. HECHLER SUSPECTED.

The revolver with which Jacob Hechler was murderously assaulted in his home in Richmond early Tuesday morning by Royal E. Ellerson was recovered yesterday by officers in the Hechler home. The revolver had been placed in a woman's stocking, which had been carefully hidden.

The finding of the weapon thus hidden strengthens the belief that the assault upon Hechler was a deliberate attempt at murder, connived at by Mrs. Hechler, whom Hechler says he caught in the room occupied by Ellerson during the night. Ellerson was a guest at the Hechler home on the night of the tragedy.

Hechler was much improved yesterday, and it is now thought that he may recover. Mrs. Hechler will be held pending a further examination of the circumstances connected with the shooting of her husband.

Killed by a Woman.

Newark, N. J., Aug. 6.—Michael Martella, 34 years old, was shot and killed in his flat on the second floor of 16 Drift street, last night. The police at first arrested his next door neighbor, Carmine Amore, but later released him when Amore's wife, Josephine, confessed to the crime. Mrs. Amore is said to be a woman of extraordinary beauty.

In confessing her crime, Mrs. Amore said:

"I shot Martella because he attempted to get into my house. He had been annoying me for a long time, trying to make love to me. Last night, while my husband was away, he came to my window and tried to crawl through. I became frightened and got my husband's gun. Then I shot."

When Martella was picked up a 32-calibre bullet fell from his trousers' leg.

A Minister as Co-respondent.

New York, Aug. 6.—Rev. Dr. Benjamin Q. Denham, now of Pleasant Hill, Mo., who is named by millionaire E. Bartel Hall in his suit for divorce, will be denounced to the Missouri Church today by his former flock of the First Church of the Disciples of Christ here. Denham was ousted from the church after a bitter debate. Dignitaries of the flock stood loyally by Denham when it was charged that he was traveling in the west with Mrs. Emma K. Hall, but when photographs of them both taken in Iowa towns reached here, the deacons could stand no more. E. Bartel Hall's suit for divorce will probably be heard here before a referee. Papers were filed a week ago.

Betting Not a Crime.

New York, Aug. 6.—In the case of George Sterling, charged with violating the new anti gambling laws, by wagering a dozen balls in a game of golf, in Nassau county, the appellate division of the Supreme Court today handed down a decision that the mere act of betting is not a crime.

A violation of section 351 can only be charged when the person accepting the bet takes all comers and records and registrers the wagers. The decision further intimates that men making bets cannot be prosecuted, the law referring only to those accepting them.

Rumor of the resignation of Attorney General Bonaparte, to take effect after the November election, is revived in Washington. While this is being discussed with animation, additional interest is added by the announcement that Arthur W. Cooley, of New York, assistant attorney general, who has been in close touch with Mr. Bonaparte, has resigned. Wade Ellis, of Ohio, is likely to be named as head of the department in recognition of his past services.

Today's Telegraphic News

Mr. Taft's Speech.

Hot Springs, Va., Aug. 6.—Before the convention of the Virginia Bar Association Mr. Taft today delivered an address on "The delays of litigation." Mr. Taft said in part:

The chief reason why the state devotes so much time and effort in the administration of justice between individuals in private litigation, and between the state and persons charged with crime in public litigation, is to promote the cause of peace and tranquility in the community. Speaking theoretically and abstractly, of course, our aim is to secure equal and exact justice between individuals and between the state, representing all persons in a community, and an offending individual just for the love of justice, but practically the objects sought are peace, tranquility and contentment among the people.

While we may properly felicitate ourselves on this widened function of our courts, enabling us to avoid less peaceable methods of settling important politico-legal questions, have we the right to say that our present administration of justice generally insures continued popular satisfaction with its results? I think not. The present is a time when all our institutions are being subjected to close scrutiny with a view to the determination whether we have not now tried the institutions upon which modern society rests to the points of proving that some of them should be radically changed. The chief attack is on the institution of private property and is based upon the inequalities in the distribution of wealth and of human happiness that are apparent in our present system. I believe that the institution of private property, next to that of personal liberty, has had most to do with the uplifting and physical and moral improvement of the whole human race, but that it is not inconsistent with the rights of private property to impose limitations upon its uses for unlawful purposes, and that this is the remedy for reform rather than the abolition of the institution itself. Our present system, while not perfect, is not so far from proper results, as call for anxiety.

The judges of the country, both state and national, on an average, are good men. Venality in our judges is very rare; and while the standard of judicial ability and learning may not be always as we should like to see it, the provision for review and for free and impartial hearing are such as generally give just final judgment. The inequality that exists in our present administration of justice, and that sooner or later, is certain to rise and trouble us, and to call for popular condemnation and reform, is the unequal burden which the delays and expense of litigation under our system impose on the poor litigant. In some communities I know these delays have induced merchants and commercial men to avoid courts altogether and to settle their controversies by arbitration, and to this extent the courts have been relieved; but such boards of arbitration are only possible between litigants that are members of the same commercial body, and are in a sense associated.

They offer no relief to the litigant of little means who finds himself engaged in a controversy with a wealthy opponent. It is inevitable that with an elaborate code, the expense of a suit involving a small sum, is in proportion far greater than that involving a large sum, hence it results that the cost of justice to the poor is always greater than it is to the rich, assuming that the poor are more often interested in small cases than the rich in large ones—a fairly reasonable assumption. One reason for delay in the lower court is the disposition of judges to wait an undue length of time in the writing of their opinion or judgments. I speak with confident on this point, for I have been one of the sinners myself.

It may be asserted as a general proposition, to which many legislatures seem to be oblivious, that everything which tends to prolong or delay litigation between individuals or between individuals and corporations is a great advantage for that litigent who has the longer purse; every change of procedure that limits the right of appeal works for the benefit in the end of the poor litigant and puts him more on an equality with a wealthy opponent. It is probably true, that the disposition of the litigation is in the end, more likely to be just when three tribunals have passed upon it, than when only one or two have settled it; but the injustice which meantime has been done by the delay to the party originally entitled to the judgment generally exceeds the advantage that he has in ultimately winning the case.

The shortening of the time will reduce the expense, because, first, the fees of the lawyers must be less if the time taken is not so great.

Second, the incidental court fees and costs will be less. Again, I believe that a great reform might be effected, certainly in the federal courts, and I think, too, in the state courts, by a mandatory reduction of the court costs and fees. I think another step in the direction of the dispatch of litigation would be the requirement of higher qualifications for those judges who sit to hear the cases involving a small pecuniary amount.

Another method by which the irritation at the inqualities in our administration of justice may be reduced by the introduction of a system for the settling of damage suits brought by the employees against public service corporations through official arbitration and without resort to jury trials.

Such a system is working in England, as I am informed, and has been successfully inaugurated in Massachusetts. No one can have sat upon the federal bench as I did, for eight or nine years, and not realize how defective the administration of justice in these cases must have seemed to the defeated plaintiff, whether he was the legless or armless employee himself or his personal representative.

Attacked in Court.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 6.—Harvey Baker, confessed assailant of Ada Matthias, nine years old, is nursing his bruises in jail here after being almost strangled to death in the court room at police headquarters by Thomas Matthias, father of the girl.

Baker had just pleaded guilty when Matthias leaped over the court rail and grabbed him by the throat. Wild confusion at once ensued and Baker's eyes were bulging before policemen could tear Matthias away from his throat. As he was led to a cell, Matthias raised both hands and swore that as soon as he was released, he would kill Baker wherever he found him.

Dismembered Body Found.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—The head of the boy whose dismembered body was found in the drainage canal late yesterday, was found by the police today. It was in the canal a short distance from the spot where the torso was found. Working on the theory that the victim, probably a Greek boy 15 or 16 years old, was offered up as a sacrifice to the vengeance of the padrone system, the whole Chicago police force is at work today in an effort to identify the body. Federal authorities are also taking a hand, believing the boy was one of Chicago's slaves imported recently and forced to work for a wealthy master and then murdered because he revealed or threatened to reveal the secrets of the dealers in human chattels. The torso was found in the canal, following the discovery earlier of two human legs, a few blocks away. The torso had been ripped open in front and the heart torn out and slashed in two.

The viscera had been removed cleanly. Into this cavity, the severed left foot had been thrust, together with a black cap, a black stocking and a portion of an undershirt. A pair of boy's trousers had been wrapped about the body and about this was a newspaper dated a week ago. For some time United States District Attorney Sims has been trying to break up padronism in Chicago and has summoned Greek boys before U. S. Commissioner Foote to testify. It is believed that one of these boys, who told on his master, may have been murdered in revenge. The police, though refusing the name of the man they have under arrest, admit that he is a Greek, suspected of being the leader of a gang operating a padrone system in this city.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Aug. 6.—The market became firm at the end of the first hour. Railroad stocks were favorably influenced by the decline in wheat and corn at Chicago. London sold 15,000 shares in the first hour. The stock market continued strong in the last half of the forenoon. The bulk of the buying was apparently on manipulative orders that have been out all through the present bull movement.

Chronic Diarrhoea Relieved.

Mr. Edward E. Henry, with the United States Express Co., Chicago, writes, "Our General Superintendent, Mr. Quick, handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy some time ago to check an attack of the old chronic diarrhoea. I have used it since that time and cured many on our trains who have been sick. I am an old soldier who served with Butherford B. Hayes and William McKinley four years in the 23rd Ohio Regiment, and have no aliment except chronic diarrhoea, which this remedy stops at once." For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

The resignation of Said Pasha, the Grand Vizier, and the sultan's newly appointed ministry, is taken in official circles in Constantinople today to mean that the sultan will have to yield unreservedly to the demands of the young Turks to save his regime from a complete overthrow. Not a reactionary is included. It is made up of the Constantinople progressives, men who have been wholly out of sympathy with the old regime. Letter to Old Dominion Glass Co.

Alexandria, Va.

Dear Sirs: "He's a very good man as men go, he's only about fifteen per cent tricky."

What do you think of that?

There are eight points not-adulterated and full-gallon; there are more than two hundred and fifty some adulterated three-quarters, some two-thirds, some half, one-third, a quarter; and, when you get down to fifteen per cent, they seem very good as paints go; they're only about fifteen per cent tricky.

How much is it fair to cheat in a gallon, by measure; and how much by water in milk; or whiting, china clay, ground stone, barytes, benzine, and water, in paint? Fifteen is the least; it isn't worth while to cheat for less than fifteen; they seem to think so anyhow. Maybe, it isn't worth while at all.

Devoe is the strongest of all. A gallon goes further; 10 gallons Devoe is enough for a job that takes 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 of the rest; and a gallon costs $5 when painters are paid.

Now reckon the costs. Devoe $50; the rest $55 $60 $65 $70 and so on.

How long will they wear? The strongest wears longest, of course.

Is it worth while to cheat when an honest paint cost, least and wears longest?

Yours truly,

F W DEVOE & Co.

Mohammed Ali Bey, the Turkish Minister to the United States, today in an interview expressed the opinion that if the European powers who have been pressing for internal reforms in Turkey would now keep their hands off and allow the Turkish people to work their own problems under the new constitution greater progress would be made than would be possible if the new parliament, which is to assemble next November, should be hampered by outside interference.

FIREMEN'S CONVENTION.

The regular monthly meeting of the Columbia Steam Fire Engine Company No. 4 was held last night, President W. A. Smoot in the chair. Considerable important business was transacted. An invitation to attend the 22d annual convention of the Virginia State Firemen's Association, at Harrisonburg, on August 26, 27 and 28, was accepted by a unanimous vote. The following were elected: Vice president to the association, W. K. Griffith; delegates J. F. Pettey, J. W. Travers, W. J. Hughes, Sam'l Elliott, Antonio Baccigalupo, James Luckett; alternates, John Knight, Elton R. Shinn, L. Middleton, George Crump, F. Travers and T. Tharp.

The company decided to leave for Harrisonburg on the evening train Tuesday, August 25. The Columbia company will take with them the old Columbia engine, which in former years made enviable records in contests at various state meetings.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Reliance Fire Co was held last night to make arrangements for their trip to the firemen's convention at Harrisonburg, the latter part of the month. Messrs. A. D. Grimes, K. W. Ogden and Smith Williams were elected delegates and Messrs Milton Glasgow, Conrad Schwab and M. K. Hammill alternates. Mr. Allen Thompson, formerly of Harrisonburg, but now identified with the company in this city was, elected vice president to the convention. A committee will have charge of the arrangements and will report at a special meeting to be held in the next few days. The matter of organizing a Firemen's Relief Association made necessary by an act passed by the Virginia Legislature and brought to the attention of the company by Corporation Attorney Semuel P. Fisher was taken up and a committee appointed, composed of Messrs. J. S. Douglass, A. D. Grimes, and K. W. Ogden to confer with like committees from the other active companies for the purpose of organizing. This will be done at once, as its object is to relieve disabled firemen or those directly dependent upon them which benefits will not be derived until the incorporation of the association.

The Friendship Fire Company called a meeting for last night but a quorum not appearing no business was transacted. It is understood, however, that a number of members of the company will attend the convention.

ALMOST EXTINCT.

What used to be a live industry is today almost extinct. Many will remember the old ferry steamer Virginia, in charge of the late Capt James Griffin, which used to transport passengers and produce from Fox's ferry, Md., to this city daily. The old steamer likewise the captain are numbered with things which were and the business of transporting residents of Maryland is carried on now in a small sail-boat. This has something to do with the high prices of produce in market nowaays. Farmers in Maryland now haul their produce over the road to the Washington markets and dispose of it there. The only producer from Maryland who comes to our city market now is Mr. John Swift, who conveys his goods in his own power boat. More than half of the product of his farm, however, is sold in Washington.

CAMP MEETING.

The 16th annual encampment of the Loudoun Camp Meeting Association will be held at Benton's woods, near Leithton, beginning on August 14th and continuing till the 25th. The officers are J. M. Lake, president, and S. R. Fred, secretary, and from the former we have received an invitation to "come and feast on some of the good things we have; such as fried chicken, roast veal, lamb, etc.," a most tempting bill of fare.

The new auditorium has been erected at a considerable cost, with a seating capacity of 3,000 persons. This handsome and substantial building, which replaces the old tent, will add greatly to the comfort, convenience and safety of those who attend. The new water system is a most up-to-date and sanitary one, the water being brought through a pipe line from the famous Lyons springs, three-fourths of a mile distant from the grounds, into a tank holding 5,000 gallons, with hydrants distributed at convenient points throughout the grounds.

THE BALLOON.

Captain Thomas J. Baldwin made a second successful flight yesterday evening in his dirigible balloon from the drill ground at Fort Myer. He remained in the air twelve minutes, attained an estimated maximum speed of 22 to 25 miles an hour, demonstrated that his ship was absolutely under control as to rudder and almost entirely obedient to the control-planes mechanism designed to lift or sink it at will, and, in the opinion of himself, Engineer Glen H. Curtiss, and Gen. Allen, chief signal officer of the army, increased far toward the point of certainty his chances of fulfilling the government contract and selling his dirigible to the United States The second flight of Captain Baldwin's dirigible was witnessed by a scant 150 persons, instead of the crowds that thronged the drill grounds Tuesday.

THE WEATHER.

A grateful change in the weather came yesterday evening after a shower and the mercury, which had been soaring in the nineties for some time past, got down below the 70 mark. Last night was cool and many who had not gotten a refreshing sleep for some time enjoyed a comfortable night's rest. Today has been cloudy, with showers at intervals. The mercury at noon registered 82°. Later the skies cleared and the mercury rose to 84 degrees.

JOHN ROBINSON'S CIRCUS.

America oldest and most widely known tented organization billed to appear here on August 10.

The show, under the management of John Robinson, numbers among its arenic favorities some of the most expensive and best acts that money can procure. The Cap't. French troup of American cavalrymen, in expert feats of daring and original horsemanship, King's big realistic Wild West, introducing Bronco Riding Bucking Horses, fancy roping, Bolo Throwing, and a band of Sioux Indians Two hundred Cow Boys, Scouts, Indians and soldiers. James Dutton and company, grand Spectatcular Triple Riding Act, and Twenty Equestrian Associates, forty joyous subjects of King Momus in a gleeful sufficiency, and more than a hundred other Foreign and American features in three rings and two elevated stags, Grand Bala beautiful, The Minerva Sisters Wonderful Ariel Iron Jaw act. The Stealing Bros., Brock Bros., Arthur and Master John Forbs, The Six Tossing Lanelles, The Three De Bolien Bros., Holland & Holland, Geneva Davis, Irean French, Orton Bros., Richard Farmer, and in fact all that is good in the circus world.

FORT HUNT TAKEN.

Fort Hunt was stormed last night by a foe from Fort Washington, and after what was in theory a hard-fought battle, the Virginia defense was captured and now is in the hands of the enemy.

While the umpires have been unable to agree upon the matter, reports from both sides indicate that the militiamen stationed at Fort Washington have been avenged for their defeat of Tuesday night.

The battle last night was a hard-fought one, and the invaders were successful only after they had glided about over the waters of the Potomac, picking covered places and hugging the shores, wading through water and in soft mud waist deep. Then the invaders charged up a steep hill.

Many sail and power boats from this city went down to witness the maneuvers, which were pronounced better than any previous occasions.

PLEASANT TRIP.

Police Commissioner August Oehlert, who returned home Tuesday night from an extensive trip to Europe reports having a nice time everywhere he went, but none better than when he visited a former resident of this city—Mr. Louis Krafft—who lives at Kaiserslantern, Germany. He says he spent a week with Mr. Krafft, who would not permit him to leave his home without the pleasure of his company. He reports that Mr. and Mrs. Krafft are in fine health and says they have the finest home it was his pleasure to see in his travels. He also says that Mr. Krafft spoke highly of the Gazette, which paper, he says, he prizes more than any publication which comes to him.

BARGE RAISED.

About eighteen years ago a barge was towed to this city loaded with lumber consigned to Perry, Smoot & Co., from a port in North Carolina. After the lumber was gotten off a heavy southeast gale came up and the barge, which is 225 feet long and 38 feet beam broke from its moorings and landed in the piles north of this city, where it has been ever since. The United States government knowing it was a menace to navigation started to remove it a few days, securing the services of Capt. Warner who so successfully raised the steamer Trenton, with the result that the captain completed the job yesterday afternoon and the barge is now afloat.

NEW NORFOLK STEAMER.

Satisfactory progress is being made on the hull of the new steamer Southern to ply between Washington, this city and Norfolk, under construction at the yard of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company at Newport News, during the past month. The hull will be ready for launching early in the fall. It is proposed to make the Southern a model passenger carrying boat, as a specimen of the fine work turned out at the yard.

She will be equipped in magnificent style, and will rival in elegence the big steamers running out of New York.

ASSAULT WITH A CRUTCH.

A means of locomotion for a cripple was used in defense of her home yesterday by Belle Reeves in an assault on Martha Woodland, both colored. They were both before Justice Pelton this morning—Belle as a prisoner and Martha as the complainant. After summing up the evidence Justice Pelton fined each $2.50 for disorderly conduct, as he deemed them both guilty.

MARSHALL HALL.

As will be seen by an advertisement elsewhere the steamer Charles Macalaster will on Sunday next stop at Prince street wharf, this city, on all her trips to and from Marshall Hall. The steamer is one of the finest on the river and Marshall Hall is one of the most pleasant resorts in the neighborhood—a delightful place to spend the day.

WORK OF THE WAGON.

The labors of those in charge of the dog wagon were rewarded by the capture of seven unlicensed canines yesterday. Four of the dogs have since been licensed. Officer Garvey seems to be determined to free the city of worthless dogs.

ANOTHER APPEAL.

An appeal in the case of a Hagerstown, Md., hotel proprietress, fined for selling "amberine" without a license, was taken by the Portner Brewing Company, of this city, yesterday, which claims amberine is nonspirituous and not fermented liquor.

KILLED A CAT.

Moses Johnson, colored, as black as midnight, about 12 years of age, was before the police court this morning charged with killing a cat with a bean shooter. He acknowledged his guilt, and at the request of his parents he was held for examination for the reform school.

FALSE REPORT.

The report published a day or two ago in regard to a robbery at Mr. Sinclair's place at the upper end of Duke street on Sunday last, was investigated by Officers Knight, Gill and Young and found to be untrue.

The Hess Oxfords, "the finest", reduced. $4.00, $5.00 and $6.00 grades go at $3.90. J. A. Marshall & Bro., 422 King street.

ANSWER FILED.

An answer was filed yesterday by the District of Columbia commissioners to the mandamus proceedings brought some time ago by the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington Railroad Company, which sought to compel the commissioners to show cause why they should not sign a certificate authorizing the Secretary of the treasury to pay to the railway company $1,500,000 toward the Union station. In their answer to the petition the commissioners set up that the act of Congress authorizing the payment of this money vested them with a judicial power which is not subject to review. They declare the passenger station and terminals are not "ready for occupancy." The commissioners contend that the requirements will not be satisfied until the completion of the New Jersey avenue bridge and the south Washington station.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice Julius Pelton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Moses Johnson, colored, arrested by Officer Garvey, charged with killing a cat, was held for examination.

Bell Reeves, colored, arrested by Officers Nicholson and Talbot for assaulting and beating Martha Woodland, each was fined $2.50.

W. B. Jackson, arrested by Officers Knight, Bell and Talbot charged with permitting his horse to run at large, said animal injuring the child of Mr. A. Deavers, was fined $2.

Edward Grooms, colored, arrested by Officer Garvey, charged with keeping two unlicensed dogs, was fined $2.

A citizen for allowing vicious dogs to roam the streets; case continued till Monday.

BOLD HIGHWAYMEN.

An account has previously been published in the Gazette of the acts of murderous highwaymen operating in this vicinity. Last night two thieves attacked Mr. James McGaffney, who lives on the old Brown estate, near Four Mile Run, and robbed him of considerable cash. They went into the low land to the east and robbed a colored woman named Gaskins, who in her attempt to defend herself had her arm broken. They escaped with the plunder in the direction of Washington. The men are colored, wearing light overalls, caps and black coats. It is generally supposed that these are the same men who held up and robbed a colored man of $17.50 a night or two ago at Braddock Heights.

SPEED BOAT LAUNCHED.

The speed boat belonging to Mr. Victor Emerson, which has been lying in the dock at the foot of Prince street will be launched this afternoon. This naphtha launch was shipped here from Cincinnati and carries a 34 horsepower engine. It is expected to make 18 miles an hour when entered in the race of next Tuesday. It is built of hard wood entirely and has a steel frame.

FREDERICKSBURG ELECTION VOID.

Judge Goolrick, of the Corporation Court of Fredericksburg, in a decision rendered in that city today declared that the election held in that city recently in which the "drys" won by a small majority was illegal, null and void. Some of the saloons which closed on Tuesday night have already reopened and this evening are doing business again.

HOUSE ROBBED.

Mr. David Pettit, of the county, reported at the station house today that about 8.15 o'clock this morning his residence was entered by two colored men and robbed. Among the articles stolen were a rifle, a shot gun, two pistols, two silver watches, one gold chain, two pocket knives, two razors, two rings, etc.

Mr. John R. Hodgson, aged 79 years, died on Tuesday at Woodridge, D. C. He served four years in the Confederate army under General Ashby, and is survived by his wife, three sons and a daughter.

As will be seen by an advertisement a stranger is going the rounds of this city soliciting advertisements for a paper to be published in the interests of the Trades Council of this city. He has no authority for such action.

The naptha launch Sea Gull, one of the finest boats of this description on the Potomac, will make a trial trip this afternoon at 6 o'clock. It is generally presumed that this launch will be entered in the race of next Tuesday.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Mr. James W. Devers, the contractor for the erection of the school building in West End, near this city, has commenced work on the building and will push it to an early completion.

The work of clearing the ground for the erection of the new school building on Prince street was commenced by the contractors, Messrs. George Leigh & Bros., of Louisa, this morning, and later the work of preparing the foundation was begun. It is understood that the contractors have brought a number of mechanics to this city from Louisa to assist them in the erection of the building.

At the Opera House the interesting show of last night will be repeated, and, judging from the attendance, it is of a first class order.

The First Hello Girl.

They were seated around a table in a well known cafe, and the conversation had turned upon the development of the flying machine and other fruits of the inventive genius of the day.

"Tut, tut!" exclaimed a solemn faced, lantern jawed member of the party. "What of it? The old folks were not so slow. Look at the telephone, claimed as a modern invention. Why, say, it's the oldest on record."

"You better see your doctor. What's the matter with you?" asked another.

"Oh, I mean it," said the solemn faced man. "Telephone service dates back to the garden of Eden—that's where it originated. The garden's call was 2-8-1 Apple."

Then he dodged the remnant of a sandwich, reached for his hat and was gone.—New York Globe.

The Insufferable Anticipation.

A young Scotch emigrant was brought before the magistrate of a Nova Scotia court, charged with having deserted his work on a certain farm without giving due notice to his employer. When asked what he had to say in his defense, he replied, "Weel, they gied me nout but brakeshaw to eat." Brakeshaw, it may be explained, is the flesh of animals which have died a natural death. "How was that?" asked the magistrate. "Weel, it was this way. Ye ken, the auld coo deed an' we ate it, the auld steg (gander) deed an' we ate it, the auld soo (sow) deed an' we ate it, the auld bubblejock deed an' we ate it. Then the old woman deed—an' I left."—Bellman.

Hindoo Confectionery.

Like the American girls, Hindoo girls are passionately fond of sweet things. One of their candies, sadu, is very much like our plain sugar candy It is made of sugar and milk and flavored with attar of roses. Buddhikabal, or hair of Buddha, is one of their most popular sweetmeats. It is so called because it is in fine, long strings like vermicelli. This is made of sugar and cream from buffalo's milk, which is exceedingly rich.

A Queer Twist.

The late Bishop T. U. Dudley of Kentucky declared that he was indebted to a mountaineer of that state for the most ungrammatical sentence he ever heard. This is it:

"Them three Miss Blake are three of as pretty a gal as I ever see."

Beau Brummel Reprimanded.

Beau Brummel once insolently replied to an invitation to take tea by remarking that he never "took" anything but physic.

"Yes, you do," frowned his hostess; "you take liberties."

Playful Otters.

Otters are the most playful of all the animals, romping, wrestling, playing tug of war with a stick instead of a rope and sliding downhill on a slippery incline of mud which they make themselves.

Why, Indeed?

Robert Lowe once watched a deaf friend listening to a most tremendous bore with his ear trumpet. "Why," Lowe wondered aloud—"why contend against natural advantages?"

Granulated Sore Eyes Cured.

"For twenty years I suffered from a bad case of granulated sore eyes, [says Martin Boyd of Henrietta, Ky. "In February, 1903, a gentleman asked me to try Chamberlain's Salve. I bought one box and used about two-thirds of it and my eyes have not given me any trouble since." This salve is for sale by W. F. Creighton and Co., and Richard Gibson.

THURSDAY EVENING, AUG. 6, 1908

An Eccentric Genius.

Among the geniuses none perhaps was stranger than the poet Baudelaire, who dyed his hair green, tried to strangle his father-in-law, used opium, tobacco and wine to excess and enjoyed perverted olfactory sensations. "My soul soars upon perfumes as the souls of other men soar upon music," he wrote. But what pleased him, strangely, were odors of putrefaction, vile smells which other men abhorred and the stenches of disease which made others sick. And yet his poetry is among the most passionately musical of the literature of France. He was exceedingly superstitious, believing he would not succeed in an undertaking unless he left a house first with the left foot, and would count the number of gas jets along the streets, the numbers of cabs and numbers of doors. Adding these figures in his mind, he would consider the result an omen—multiples of three good, multiples of seven reassuring, while his bad number was seventeen. Curiously, once he was thrown out of a cab, the figures of which he added and found amounted to seventeen.

A Sharp Swindler.

A fashionable young lady once drove up in a handsome carriage to a private lunatic asylum situated a few miles from Paris and requested to see the proprietor. Her wish being acceded to, she informed the doctor that she desired to place her husband under his care to see if a cruel mania under which he labored—viz, "that he had lost a large quantity of jewels"—could not be removed. After some hesitation the doctor consented, and the lady drove away directly to a jeweler's in Paris and selected jewels to the value of several thousand francs and requested one of the shopmen to go with her in her carriage to procure the money for the goods she had taken. She drove with him to the asylum, and, arriving there, he was shown into a room. The lady then sought the doctor, told him of the arrival of her husband and, getting into her carriage, again drove away. The rest may be imagined, but the poor fellow was confined several days before it was found they both had been "sold." The lady was never heard of after.

Wagner's Portrait.

When Wagner was in England supervising the first production of his operas, the music enthusiasts commissioned the artist Herkomer to paint the musician's portrait, but Wagner was dashing about in such a state of frenzy that he repelled impatiently every attempt to get him to give a "sitting." Still, Herkomer stuck to him like a limpet, fed with him, walked and talked with him, watched him conduct his orchestra, write music and read books. At last, when every attempt to secure a "sitting" had failed, Herkomer rose early one morning, painted with frenzied speed all day, spent a short night in restless sleep, rose early again and painted furiously, till on the second evening he sat down exhausted—but with his picture finished. Wagner was called in and threw up his hands in amazement. "Ah!" he cried. "Wonderful! That is exactly how I would like to look if I could."

Why Kelly Didn't Sleep.

"One night I went in late to Father Dempsey's hotel. Every bed was full, and there were 200 men sleeping on the floor of the recreation room. Each one of them had a newspaper under him to keep off the dust of the floor. I pointed to one little Irishman and remarked that he did not seem to be resting well.

"'What's your name, my man?' Father Dempsey asked him.

"'Thomas Kelly, your reverence.'

"'You don't seem to be resting well, Mr. Kelly.'

"'I'll get to sleep after awhile, your reverence,' he answered.

"'I don't believe you will unless you change your bed. You're sleeping on a Westliche Post,' answered Father Dempsey."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Caught the General.

One of the regular army officers tells a story of how the old stringent army regulations once went against General Scott. One wet afternoon that soldier was caught in the rain in Washington. He was in full uniform and was well known, so, no cab being near, he borrowed an umbrella. Arriving at his hotel, an underofficer approached him and calmly remarked:

"General, you will consider yourself under arrest for eight days for carrying an umbrella while in full uniform."

His Solicitude.

"Is it a fact that your mother-in-law threw herself out of the third story window and you did nothing to restrain her?"

"Excuse me, I went to the first story to catch her, but she had already passed."—Diavolo Rosa.

Riches.

It is not what we have, but what we can do without, that makes us rich. Socrates, seeing a large loaf of valuables pass one day, exclaimed, "I am most happy, for there are so many things that I do not want!"

The Maroon Monster.

Friend—I suppose you run down a great many people? Motorist—Well, sometimes I run them up. Friend—Run them up? Motorist—Yes; last night I ran two men up a tree.—Chicago News.

A Change.

Mrs. Larkin—I want a little money today, Fred. Mr. L.—I'm very glad of that. Mrs. L. (surprised)—Why are you glad? Mr. L.—Because generally you want a good deal.
